

HEADMASTER'S WELCOME

As we head towards the end of a busy and rewarding term, it has been a lively and eventful week at Yarm, as ever, with pupils immersing themselves in a wonderful variety of activities. Our A Level Drama students gave gripping performances in the Studio Theatre for their examined pieces and younger talent was on show in the Prep Monologue and Duologue competition, with very high participation from Year 3-6 pupils in a highly entertaining evening of drama which highlighted pupils' growing confidence and skills on stage.

It continues to be a remarkable period for sporting success at Yarm and there was plenty to celebrate as our U14 Netball team were crowned National Champions, making Yarm School history, after a thrilling final that went to extra time before they emerged victorious. Our Yarm rowers have also excelled this week at Eton Dorney, with some brilliant performances, including a fantastic win in the Open J15 4x+. This is an outstanding performance, alongside many others which demonstrates the growing confidence and ambition of the boat club - there is more detail in the report within. Boys' Hockey also made headlines, with the 1st XI's impressive 10-4 victory over King's Chester last week earning them a well-deserved place in the National Semi-Final against Magdalen College School, Oxford, taking place here at Yarm later today. Meanwhile, our rugby team represented the school with great determination and spirit at the prestigious Rosslyn Park Sevens competition. Well done to all those representing the school with such distinction.

This week's newsletter is packed with highlights, including an insightful Working Lunch with Sophie Allick, the final Yarm Apprentice boardroom of the academic year, and a heartwarming campaign for pre-loved shoes. There's much to admire in James' beautiful watercolours featured in Artists' Corner, alongside a Geography field trip report, news from EconBus Society, a wonderful Eco Week round-up, and a report from Prep pupil, Jack, inspired by our Debating Club in action. Senior pupils supporting the prep debating activity is another example of the opportunities and the impact that Yarm Sixth Form students have.

My thanks, as ever, go to the staff, pupils, and parents whose dedication and support enable such a vibrant and successful programme to develop. I look forward to seeing what the next week will bring, and encourage you to get tickets, if you haven't already, for our Spring Concert on Sunday evening (more info within).

Dr Huw Williams

WORKING LUNCH WITH SOPHIE ALLICK

All Working Lunches are, of course, special, but the links we have with this week's speaker are multiple, making it even more so! Sophie Allick is not only a former student of the department, (having been an outstanding student of A level Business, who was diligent, determined, self-motivated and passionate about the subject), but she is also a former colleague (having been employed as a Marketing Executive at Yarm several years ago), and furthermore she is also a sibling to a current keen student within the EconBus department.

Upon leaving Yarm School, Sophie completed a degree at Newcastle University in Business Management (and during this time actually completed her first of several prior Working Lunches for the department when she offered advice to the then Sixth Form on how to target and secure the top A Level grade in Business). Both during and after her degree studies Sophie sought and gained valuable experience across marketing and sales. Having an interest in business and a lense for creativity, she began her career in Marketing at Yarm School and then continued her journey with the Estee Lauder Companies.

Eventually, she found her niche as a Public Relations specialist and she is now the Global Communications Manager for Jo Malone London. In this role, she has led some incredible campaigns across various regions working on strategic communications including large scale immersive PR launches, influencer & social marketing, media outreach and campaign development.

Sophie's enthusiasm and strong work ethic were very evident during her presentation and she happily answered a plethora of questions from, and offered much tangible advice to her large audience of Lower and Upper Sixth Formers from both within and beyond the department. We are grateful to Sophie for her generosity of time and her ongoing support of EconBus, Careers and the school.

SAL'S SHOES

Dear Parents and Carers

Many of you will remember that, during House Giving Week last December, we asked families to donate pre-loved shoes to support the charity Sal's Shoes, and we were able to collect a good number of shoes at that time to pass on. Thank you to those families.

As we come towards the end of this Easter Term, we would like to see just how many more pairs of shoes we can collect as a school community!

Children tend to outgrow their shoes before they outwear them, but shoes are also relatively difficult to recycle because of the many different components they are made up of. Sal's Shoes essentially finds preloved children's shoes new feet, and since its foundation 10 years ago, the charity has found feet for over 5,000,000 pairs in 63 countries around the world, including increasingly here in the UK.

In order to support this fantastic charity, please have a look at home to see if you have a pair of clean

'outgrown but not outworn' shoes, which should be rubber banded in a pair and dropped off at the Main Reception, or handed in by your child to their Tutor. In order to be able to move the shoes onto their new homes, each pair of shoes should please also include a £1 donation. They can be any style or size (except heels) of child appropriate shoes.

With very best wishes and thanks,

Mrs A Kingsbury

Senior Deputy Head / DSL

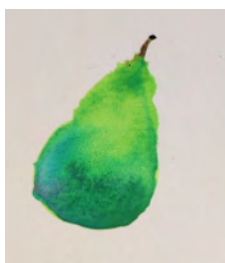

ARTISTS' CORNER

After doing watercolours in art, I went and tried at home. Usually I hate watercolours and just painting in general.

First I just did some blending and then realised that it kind of looked like a sun set so I drew on some basic birds so the attention was still on the background however I drew the birds where I made a mistake so it became fixed. Secondly, I painted fruits from blobs. Again, each blob represented a mistake.

I really enjoy watercolours because it is a free and loose style of art and I enjoy how rough but nice the end result can be like the fruits.

INTO THE UNKNOWN? YARM APPRENTICE BOARDROOM

The day of the final Boardroom dawned... Three keen PMs shared their presentations in readiness and the clock ticked towards 3.05pm. Lord Sugar arrived and the final countdown began. Tasked with developing resources for the Year 4 Vindolanda trips, all three teams had produced prototypes. Freya's team shared their ideas of an activity booklet and a marshmallow catapult, before Ria gave her offering of a very detailed water resistant booklet with Roman themed snap cards and Liv followed up with her A4 activity pack and top trump style cards. Mr Stone (the latest incarnation of Lord Sugar) grilled the teams, with Ishita not only asking her own questions but also acting as voice for a voiceless Miss Rhodes (credit to Ishita for deciphering the rapidly scrawled questions)!

Much deliberation determined Ria's team as victors and Liv's as runners up. (The two teams gaining Bisto vouchers as "treats"). Freya faced the difficult dilemma of which teammates to bring back to the Boardroom and chose Oscar and Henri. Lord Sugar quizzed, and both Oscar and Henri heard the fateful words "You're fired"!

Winning and runner up PM and subteam points were awarded to Ria, Issy, Liv and Fin, whilst the peer points were still incoming when this went to press!

We are delighted that Mr Stone will be utilising the Yarm Apprentice resources with the Year 4s for their imminent residential and we extend our thanks to Mr Stone for his support of Yarm Apprentice and once again being a fabulous Lord Sugar, but also to Mrs Jolly at the Prep and her fabulous pupils for their enthusiastic assistance with the Yarm Apprentice market research.

With only one further session of Yarm Apprentice remaining, the search for the 2025 Yarm Apprentice is nearly over!

ECO WEEK

Last week was Yarm School's Eco Week where the whole school got involved in a range of fantastic activities to raise awareness of eco-related issues.

In the Dining Hall, pupils scrapped their own food waste to highlight the problem of food wastage and try to encourage them to ask for smaller portion sizes and reduce their individual waste. After only the first day, we saw a significant fall in the total amount of food waste produced by the school, dropping from a total of 90.7Kg on Monday to 73.7Kg on Tuesday. By Thursday the total food waste was only 51.8Kg, showing the amazing difference we all made. We also had a green food day and a range of plant-based food options on Thursday lunchtime, to encourage more sustainable food choices.

The smoothie bike was a huge success! Pupils and staff chose their own fruit and then cycled to power the smoothie blender and raised over £50. A huge thank you to the staff that work in the Dining Hall and kitchen that helped with these eco initiatives.

Other fun activities included the Eco-football competition, making bird feeders, painting bee feeders and completing the Eco week quizzes. Thank you to everyone for coming along and getting involved. Congratulations to Yanited FC captained by Ethan Cowley who won the First and Second Year Eco-football tournament and to the World Wanderers captained by ThienAnh Diep who won the Sixth Form Eco-football tournament. The competition raised over £70 to go towards Eco-causes.

We also launched the Eco-Marine Art Competition. For anyone who would like to enter, the theme of the artwork must either be marine biology or the conservation of marine ecosystems and participants must use at least some form of recycled material within their art piece. The closing date for the competition is Friday 4th May and the winning entry will be displayed on our Eco board and receive a bistro voucher. We can't wait to see what pupils create!

PREP SCHOOL VISIT OUR DEBATING CLUB

This Thursday, Prep debating club went to the senior school to watch the senior school debate. The motion was 'This house believes that we should bring woolly mammoths back to life.'

Some points from the proposition were that it would help the environment by bringing back tundra and stop climate change, that it would help make other animals come back to life, and would help stop species that are about to be extinct not be extinct. Some points from the opposition were that it would be a waste of resources and money, we should finish world problems before starting more, and we didn't know how the woolly mammoth would act.

It was really exciting to be able to see the seniors take part in a debate and take notes of what we could use in our debates. We were also able to see what it is like if we want to do debating in the Senior School when we are older. I would love to do this when I am in senior school. It looks amazing.

Jack Morgan, Year 6

OLIGOPOLY... CREATIVE DESTRUCTION... USPS.... PROFIT MARGINS..

Econ and Bus were in the very real world when Santhosh and Theo explored the Economics of Streaming. In a well researched and well delivered presentation the Lower Sixth students explored how streaming has replaced DVDs, how Netflix, Amazon Prime and Disney are interdependent and how cinemas have had to adapt to survive.

We are grateful to Theo and Santhosh for taking time to deliver such an interesting topic matter in the midst of their trackers.

GEOGRAPHY FIELDWORK

As part of the Changing Place topic in A level Geography, we enjoyed a lesson on the high street carrying out surveys to assess whether Yarm is a home-town (predominantly made up of independent businesses) or a clone town (predominantly made up of chain stores and franchises). The survey consisted of us creating a tally that included the type of business and whether or not it was an independent company or a chain store. We found that Yarm high street was balanced between the two categories scoring 30.2 (in the East) and 32.2 (in the West) meaning that Yarm is categorised as a border town.

BOYS HOCKEY REPORT

1st XI: One Step Away from the Olympic Stadium

What a week for the Boys 1st XI Hockey team they pushed Repton all the way in the National Independent Schools Cup Quarter Final last Tuesday before beating King's Chester to reach the National England Hockey Schools Cup Semi Final.

Yarm 0-3 Repton

Tuesday 18th March

This scoreline flattered Repton somewhat as Yarm dominated the first 20 minutes of this encounter with 2 well executed short corners saved on the line by some outstanding defending. 15 minutes in saw Jack Van Niekerk shoot from close range into the far corner but just as Yarm looked like they were to take the lead, the German keeper dived full length to tip the ball around the post.

Repton are full of scholarship players (many of which are junior international players) brought in specifically to win national tournaments like this and the fact that this Yarm group can go toe to toe with such company is exceptional.

The missed opportunities cost us as Repton grew into the game and scored a superb Reverse hit from close range and a short corner either side of half time. This made it very difficult as Yarm had to chase the game. Max Mowbray was exceptional throughout as he hit Repton at speed on the counter attack to create many chances but it was not to be our day. Repton scored late on to secure the 3-0 win but as mentioned, the scoreline certainly did not reflect the game.

The boys were very disappointed but can be very proud of the performance at this level- I certainly was!

Yarm 10-4 King's Chester

Thursday 20th March

Yarm used their Repton disappointment to fuel another strong performance against our perennial north rivals- King's Chester in the National Quarter Finals.

King's boast a current England U18 International as centre forward but we had a plan to deal with him in the form of Marcus Walters. Yarm bossed many of the local encounters but failed to convert some easy opportunities which added to the anxiety levels given the significance of the game. However, Will Ferguson scored what is fast becoming a trademark bottom corner drag flick before Max Mowbray dribbled through to produce a well executed reverse stick to move the score to 2-0. More goals were to follow from a number of players but a drop in intensity as the game wore on allowed King's too many opportunities, hence the 4 goals. However, the boys can be happy they were able to knock 10 past such esteemed opponents even though the coach's assessment was a 5 out of 10 performance!

The prize now is a home National Semi Final against Magdalen College School, Oxford- the winners to play in the National Final at the London Olympic 2012 pitch after Easter- very exciting!

Mr G Ferguson

U13- Disappointment for the Yarm at the North East Finals

This group has invested a huge amount of time into their development and deserved more out of what looked like a very promising season. After a disappointing 2-0 defeat to Solihull in the ¼ Final of the National Independent Schools Cup, the boys aim was to win this tournament and reach the National Finals in Nottingham next term.

After comfortable wins against Hill House and Hymers, the boys needed a draw minimum against a very strong St Peters team. The York school has some outstanding athletes and although Yarm played well, St Peters were 2-0 up at half time. However, Rex White produced some exceptional skill down the right before setting Eddie Shakesheff up to convert high into the net. This set up an amazing final few minutes were Yarm forced a number of short corners which they failed to convert leading to a 2-1 loss.

The team picked themselves up to dominate RGS but unfortunately their keeper was having one of those days where he saved everything- which meant the game finished at 1-2. The boys decided they wanted to finish with a strong performance and duly beat Durham School 6-0 to finish the tournament in 2nd place.

Sometimes sport is cruel and does not serve up the deserved results- however, this group is a committed bunch and with physical development plus more experience of playing higher level hockey, they will get there!

Silcoates Block - Sat 22nd March

U13A- Silcoates 0-11 Yarm

U12B- Silcoates 0-3 Yarm

U13 B- Silcoates 0-12 Yarm

Yarm's U13 B team played against the Silcoates's U13 B team. In the first half Yarm were leading 5-0 with most goals scored by Ethan Cowley and his excellent goal scored by a volley which was beautifully performed. The second half was even more tactical and well-played by Yarm where we scored an extra 7 goals in the second half, so the match ended in a massive lead by Yarm of 12-0 where half of the goals were scored by Ethan Cowley. Yarm played so well you can estimate that we scored one goal every 3 minutes which is just an amazing statistics for Yarm performance on the field. And nearly every single player had scored in the Yarm's U13 B team.

Mykhailo Makovetskyi, Second Year

U12 A- Silcoates 0-5 Yarm

It was a tremendous performance by the boys scoring five goals past the opposition. Out of the six goals that we scored, Rex White scored an impressive amount of four out of five and Flynn Nunnery got the last one.

The U12 played brilliant hockey, transferring the ball from one end of the pitch to the other and being positive with the ball as well. It was a tough decision for Mr Ferguson to choose who the man of the match was. At the end of the day Mr Ferguson awarded Lewis Dargue man of the match.

Lewis Dargue, First Year

U12A- Thursday 20th March- Yarm 8-0 Hillhouse

U18B/C-Wednesday 19th March- Yarm 4-1 Silcoates A

U18B- Wednesday 19th March- Hillhouse 2-2 Yarm

ROWING: NATIONAL JUNIOR SCULLING HEAD

The National Junior Sculling Head is the pinnacle of the head racing season for junior rowers, attracting the best crews nationwide. This prestigious event marks one of the first national competitions of the year.

The event occurred at the iconic 2012 Olympic racecourse at Eton Dorney, a renowned venue for its world-class facilities.

With perfect weather—calm waters and sunshine all day—crews had the ideal opportunity to demonstrate their skills and hard work that went into their winter training. The competition format required each crew to race two 1,800-metre pieces, with their combined time determining the overall standings.

YSBC entered 12 crews across eight events, competing against the finest junior rowing talent in the country. The results were outstanding, with several of our crews achieving top placements and exceeding expectations. The competition was fierce, yet our rowers rose to the challenge with determination and resilience.

Event Results:

J14 Boys' Quad – We entered two evenly matched crews. Despite an unfortunate crab, the A crew finished 19th, while the other delivered an impressive performance, securing 6th place out of 42 crews—demonstrating great promise for the future.

A - Finn Tulloch, Harry Kyle, George White, Luke Palmer & Euan White

B - Rishi Shenoy, Kit Foster, Finnley Marsh, Oscar Whitfield & Ben Pumphrey

J14 Girls' Quad – Our two crews gained valuable experience in this highly competitive event, finishing 26th and 30th out of 45.

A - Katie Cheesman, Thea Shepherd, Annabelle Kyle, Yuhe Tian & Kate Howell

B - Diya Madhu Kumar, Monica Pallent-Home, Khushee Assudani, Hannah Dawson & Anya Kansal

J15 Girls' Quad – The J15 girls were divided into A and B crews. Both boats produced fantastic performances, with the A crew finishing 5th and the B crew placing 28th out of 59. Among all B crews at the event, our second quad ranked an impressive 4th.

A - Olivia Wildridge, Molly Raine, Lucy Oliver, Emma White & Oscar Galloway

B - Ellen Athey, Constance Deering, Gillian Teoh, Bella Yang & Luca Speight

J17 Girls' Quad – A hard-fought race led to an impressive 6th-place finish out of 31 crews.

Abby Stewart, Charlotte Maund, Becca White, Poppy Bell

J17 Boys' Quad – Comprising three J16 athletes, this young crew sculled brilliantly to finish 17th out of 28.

Charlie Baines, Noah Vincent, Zeph Atkinson-Talib, Isaac Akowuah

J18 Girls' Quad – A youthful crew featuring two J16 athletes, one J17 and one J18, gave it their all, finishing 24th out of 34.

Lucy Bardgett, Darcey Allcock, Sally Matthews, Isabella Turnbull

J18 Boys' Quad – The top men's crew of the day faced extremely tough competition but held their own, finishing 12th out of 30.

Will Jeavons, Sai Sidaginamale, Patrick Tulloch, Harry D'Ambrogio

J15 Boys' Quad – The standout performance of the day! Our J15 boys claimed 1st place out of 69 crews, winning their event by an incredible margin of 15 seconds—an extraordinary achievement highlighting their dominance in the category. Our B crew also produced an outstanding result, finishing 33rd out of 69 and ranking as the second-fastest B crew of the event.

A - Charlie Ashworth, Sam Buxton, JJ Jenney, Oscar Lane & Anya Kansal

B - Aadit Kapoor, Harry Whitfield, Kabir Gandhi, Freddie Hercock & Nikhil Shouri

The atmosphere at Eton Dorney was superb. Our rowers trained tirelessly for this competition, and their dedication paid off with exceptional performances. The success at the National Junior Sculling Head sets a strong foundation for the rest of the season, providing confidence and motivation as we look ahead to the National Schools' Regatta in two months.

Congratulations to all our rowers on their fantastic achievements!

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about STREAMERS

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

Some gaming streamers will stick to family-friendly titles, but others will play more violent games that tend to be more popular. Non-gaming streamers could, in theory, discuss just about anything, and some streamers will often stream in revealing outfits.

NEGATIVE INFLUENCES

While things have improved, streamers are often paid by companies to promote products, and this isn't always stated explicitly. While it's unlikely these goods will be harmful to your child, some streamers and influencers have engaged (knowingly or not) in scams in the past.

FINANCIAL HARM

Streamers will often have donation buttons on their screens for users to submit money. What can start as small amounts can quickly spiral as streamers engage with paying viewers more often, potentially leading to financial issues.

UNREALISTIC EXPECTATIONS

Influencers often showcase how glamorous their lives are, making some users feel as though they are lesser. However, it's important to stress that, in many ways, this is an act, or at the very least, not common. Logan Paul, who has been successful as a streamer and influencer, has a Pokemon card worth $5 million, but this is atypical of anyone working in the medium.

MISINFORMATION

Streamers are, in many ways, just like us - and they can get things wrong or reel off an opinion without having thought about it. Some can simply say awful things to get a rise out of viewers or to sway them to their side of a hot topic.

ADDICTION AND SCREEN TIME

If your child is watching a lot of a particular streamer, it can be just as damaging to their social life as playing too many video games.

Advice for Parents & Educators

EXPLAIN HOW STREAMING WORKS

For a younger viewer, being a streamer or influencer seems aspirational, but it involves a lot of work and no small degree of good fortune. Streamers are often managed and unable to speak freely due to sponsors, and influencers are just that - influencing young minds, for better or for worse.

CHECK OUT STREAMING PLATFORMS

While Twitch was the de facto streaming service for years, YouTube has gained popularity, too. Then there are Kick and Rumble, which have grown in popularity with moves for big-name streamers - despite many being dogged by controversy.

DO NOT LOG PAYMENT INFORMATION

Streamers can reward donations with additional content, on-camera "shout outs" and more. If you're unsure about who or what your child is watching, consider avoiding linking payment information. This is especially notable with Twitch, which is owned by Amazon and therefore has some crossover.

SET SCREEN TIME LIMITS

You can set screentime limits for mobile apps on iOS and Google, but with other platforms like a PC it may be more difficult to keep tabs. Consider checking in regularly to ensure your children aren't watching content they shouldn't be.
